

AMERICAN ARMY OF OCCUPATION NEARS RHINE

Yanks Receive Little Reception From Germans

WITH THE AMERICAN ARMY OF OCCUPATION, Monday, Dec. 2.—By The Associated Press.—Studied indifference again characterized the German reception of American troops on their way to the Rhine today. General Dickman's army renewed its advance at daylight, and by tonight had reached the line approximately twelve miles to the eastward. Scores of additional villages and small towns were brought under the domination of the American army but none of them are of great importance. At American headquarters at Treves, General Brown, as military governor and General Smith, who is in charge of civil affairs, have begun the work of administration. Local authorities in virtually every community have agreed to retain their posts and co-operate in maintaining order.

General Pershing has issued a proclamation calling on the people to return to their normal pursuits and assuring them that if the conduct of military affairs is not molested and if good order is kept, they will not be interfered with.

Draw Down Curtains

The towns through which the troops have passed presented an appearance similar to those entered on Sunday. Blinds were drawn in many cases and most of the inhabitants remained in doors rather than countenance the invasion by witnessing it. At Treves 130 airplanes were found ready for delivery to the Allies. A small quantity of supplies was also left there by the Germans. Reports made to General Smith indicate that, while foodstuffs are limited as to variety, there is apparently enough to meet the needs of the people. Prices, however, are very high.

Pershing Issues Proclamation

Continuing the proclamation reads: "The American army is not come to make war on a civilian population. All persons, who with honest submission peacefully obey the rules laid down by the military authorities will be protected in their persons, homes, religion and property. All others will be brought within the rule with firmness, vigor and promptness. The American army will govern in strict accordance with international law and the rules and customs of war sanctioned by the civilized world. Inhabitants on their part must absolutely abstain by word and deed from every act of hostility or impediment of any kind toward the American forces. It is your duty now to devote yourselves to the orderly and obedient conduct of your private lives and affairs, the re-establishment of normal conditions in schools, churches, hospitals and charitable institutions and resumption of your local civil life.

"You will be unobstructed but on the contrary, will be encouraged and protected in these pursuits. So far as your attitude and conduct make it possible, local courts, governing bodies and institutions will be continued in operation under supervision of American authorities. Except where they affect the rights and security of the American army your present laws and regulations will remain undisturbed and in force. Every violation of the laws of war, every act of hostility or violence, every disobedience of the rules laid down by military authority will be punished with the utmost vigor."

Occupy More Villages

With the American Army of Occupation, Tuesday, Dec. 3.—(By The Associated Press.)—While the marching forces are bringing more villages under American control, General Brown, the military governor at Treves and General Smith, in charge of civil affairs are completing plans for their temporary government.

Fire arms of all descriptions and ammunition have been ordered turned in by the warning that if this is not done a search of the houses will be made. Late yesterday hundreds of the inhabitants were seen with German army rifles and machine guns.

Report Living Conditions In Petrograd Bad

STOCKHOLM, Thursday, Dec. 5.—By The Associated Press.—Fugitives from Russia who have reached here say that living conditions in Petrograd are terrible. The famine there, they say, defies the imagination. Flour is selling for 50 rubles and butter and sugar for 150 rubles per kilogram (2.2 pounds). Herrings are the only food obtainable and sell for five rubles each.

All middle class elements are excluded from public eating houses and are dying by starvation by thousands. Hundreds are buried each day because of lack of food. The houses of the middle classes are deserted, their furniture has been stolen and the windows have been smashed.

THOUSANDS OF U.S. CASUALTIES ARE UNREPORTED

Arrears in Major Casualties to be Cleared Up Soon

WASHINGTON, Dec. 6.—The war department announced today that 16,000 major casualties including killed in action, died of wounds, died of disease or other causes, severely wounded and missing, have not yet been finally reported to the next of kin. The arrears in minor casualties is much larger it was added.

From cable reports now expected, the department hopes to clear up the arrears in major casualties within a week, except for a few names with respect to which identification has not been completed. The minor casualties not yet reported to the next of kin represent slight wounds involving relatively brief disability and in most cases the men sustaining them already have been healed. The total in this class also includes many duplications, the same soldier having been slightly wounded two or more times. The official statement issued today shows that of the total major casualties reported by General Pershing on Nov. 27th, 50,928 have been reported to the next of kin with 7,500 still to be reported. Of the 14,556 missing and prisoners of war mentioned by General Pershing 14,093 have been reported to relatives but of the 189,955 total wounded only 69,841 have been cleared up finally.

The statement gives the following official explanation of the discrepancy as to the wounded: "Ten thousand men seriously wounded and reported by cable are being held up because of discrepancies in initials or enlistment numbers and 100,000 less seriously wounded, including slight casualties are still to be drawn from the hospital records which have been forwarded by courier from France.

"These records are not alphabetized and work upon them necessarily is slow, as the same names usually appears more than once. In one case a single name appears in twenty different places. The work upon these hospital reports was seriously delayed by the influenza epidemic, but is now going on steadily.

The foregoing statement does not cover all the discrepancies as will be seen, but in dealing with so great a number of cases it may be assumed that the remainder is in process of checking and that reports will be made within a few days as to all identifiable casualties."

The statement attributes the great delay in reporting casualties and the large number of errors which have been found to the fact that "our growing army has been operating on many fronts under many commands and in the later fighting it was used to press the enemy for a quick decision every other consideration being subordinated."

SENATE SPENDS DAY DISCUSSING PEACE LEAGUE

Senator Lewis Speaks In Support of Such Organization

WASHINGTON, Dec. 6.—There was general discussion in the senate today on the proposed League of Nations with Senators Lewis of Illinois, Walsh of Montana and Williams of Mississippi. Democrats supporting such an organization and Senators Borah of Idaho, Republican and Reed of Missouri, Democrat opposing it. Few senators followed the discussion the average attendance during the day being about thirty.

The resolution of Senator Cummins of Iowa, Republican proposing appointment of a senate committee to go to Paris and keep the senate informed on events at the peace conference was not brought up today because of the absence of its author. The senate adjourned tonight until next Tuesday when the war revenue bill will be taken up with the right-of-way given it. Peace discussion is expected to continue during the debate on this measure.

Must Rely On Public Opinion. Important Questions Involved. Senator Lewis opened the debate today by delivering a prepared address. He asserted that public opinion rather than armed force must be relied upon to enforce the decrees of the league of nations and said that the successful operation of the league may give greater cause for apprehension than its failure because of the demands that may be made by one group of nations on another. He said that he believed the benefits to be derived by all nations from the league would compensate for any sacrifices that might have to be made.

Repeating to Senator Lewis, Senator Borah declared he had "yet to discover any person who is willing to follow the league to where they admit it will go if followed to its logical conclusion."

The important questions involved in forming the league, Senator Borah said, are those of jurisdiction and power of the tribunal and the embodiment in it of the necessary powers to enforce its rulings.

"No man," he continued, "has yet been willing to say that he would give this tribunal the power to render judgments and to give the police force to enforce it."

Senator Borah asked what would the league amount to unless it were given power to enforce its judgments. "And if it does render a judgment for the purpose of preventing war," interjected Senator Reed, "and has the power to enforce that judgment, how is it going to enforce that judgment without making war?"

"Exactly," replied the Idaho senator.

American Navy Will Have 1,291 Vessels In 1920

WASHINGTON, Dec. 6.—The American navy will number a total of 1,291 vessels, including 40 battleships and 228 destroyers on July 1, 1920, according to a statement prepared by Rear-Admiral Griffin, chief of the bureau of steam-engineering for the house naval committee and made public today. This statement shows that when war was declared there were 364 ships in the navy, while on November 1, ten days before hostilities ceased there were 777 exclusive of privately owned yachts and other vessels taken over on patrol service. The greatest increase was 300 in submarine chasers. The increase in destroyers was 41 to a total of 92 and that of submarines from 44 to 79.

Only two eagle boats had been completed on November 1. Ninety-eight others were contracted for but Rear-Admiral Taylor, chief of the bureau of construction and repair has informed the committee, it became known today, that the navy department has given orders that only sixty of the vessels be completed. Keels for eighty of the eagles have not been laid, but material for most of them has been fabricated.

Only two battleships were added to the fleet during the war and only one will be added between this time and July 1, 1920, Admiral Griffin said. Six others, however, actually are under construction and two, the Tennessee and California are approximately half completed. Work on three others is yet to be started.

Admiral Taylor informed the committee that contracts are yet to be placed for 29 ships which have been authorized they include two battleships, twelve destroyers, ten submarines, two destroyer tenders, a repair ship, a transport and a submarine tender.

Work has not been started on any of the five battle cruisers authorized in 1918 the laying down of these vessels and other major craft having been deferred because of the demand for destroyers during the war. Ninety-four destroyers authorized during the war are more than half completed.

COMMENT ON WILSON'S TRIP TO EUROPE

LIVERPOOL, Dec. 6.—The Liverpool Post, one of the most important provincial newspapers in England, in discussing the visit of President Wilson to Europe, says: "It is difficult for us on this side to understand the extraordinary suspicion entertained by many in America over President Wilson's attendance at the peace conference. It once was suggested that a senate committee would accompany the president presumably to watch over his proceedings. It now is stated that labor delegates will follow him headed by Samuel Gompers.

"At this distance the whole business wears a parochial air. The attitude of the senate and labor gives the impression that too many Americans are not alive to the fact that the war has transformed international relations. President Wilson would be lacking in an understanding of the new era if he remained inside the circle which is to shape the peace settlement."

WILL CONSTRUCT THREE CRUISERS FOR U. S.

SEATTLE, Dec. 6.—Announcement that the Todd Dry Dock and Construction company of Seattle would shortly commence construction of three modern armored cruisers for the United States navy, was made here today.

The contract was let two years ago, but construction was postponed.

ALLOW MORE WAGE INCREASES

WASHINGTON, Dec. 6.—Wage increases for employees of street railway companies at Buffalo, N. Y., Ottumwa, Ia., and Detroit, Mich., are provided in an award announced today by the war labor board. In all three cases the board found that the companies should be allowed to increase their fares to meet the wage advances.

Employees of the Ottumwa Railway and Light company 38, 40 and 42 cents an hour with existing working conditions and differentials paid for special service continued. The award is retroactive to October 1.

PARIS, Dec. 6.—5:25 P. M.—(By The Associated Press.)—Crown Prince Frederick Wilhelm has renounced his right to the German throne.

A despatch received in Basle from the semi-official Wolff Bureau quotes the crown prince in renouncing the throne as having said: "I renounce formally and definitely all rights to the crown of Prussia and the imperial crown which would have fallen to me by the renunciation of the emperor or for other reasons."

"Given by my authority and signed by my hand. Done at Wieringen, Dec. 1, 1918. (Signed) 'Wilhelm.'"

In an interview with a correspondent of The Associated Press on the island of Wieringen received in New York, Dec. 3, which bore no evidence of delay and presumably was given not earlier than Dec. 2, Frederick Wilhelm said:

"I have not renounced anything and I have not signed any document whatever."

He added that should the German government desire to form a republic he would be content to return to Germany as a simple citizen ready to do anything to assist his country—even to work as a laborer in a factory.

EXHIBIT OF SWINE COMES TO FRONT

CHICAGO, Dec. 6.—While sadistic horses and prize steers are receiving most of the admiration of visitors at the International Livestock Exposition and horse fair the once humble American hog is also there and in money value the swine exhibits are not far behind their more aristocratic companions. Hogs, their breeders declare won the war because it was the record breaking production of American pork last year that enabled England and France to overcome the German submarine blockade. The case of Johnny and Billy Turner of DeWitt, Iowa, illustrates the importance to which the hog industry has recently grown in the middle west. Johnny is 16 years old and Billy 13 and the title of their firm is Turner Brothers. Four years ago their father gave them $25 to buy a bicycle but they bought a sow and went into the hog raising business instead. Today they have 600 in their herd of Hampshires valued at $25,000. They are exhibiting a prize boar at the show for which they refused an offer of $2000. The firm has won 83 prizes including three blue ribbons.

WAR DEPARTMENT CANCELS CONTRACTS

WASHINGTON, Dec. 6.—Abandonment of construction of fourteen projects was announced today by the war department. At the same time it was stated that orders had been given for completing the central officers' training schools at Camps Gordon and Hancock, Georgia.

The projects on which work has been ordered stopped, include the enlargement of the officers' training camp at Camp Grant, Ill.

SPACE FOR PERSHING SQUARE

NEW YORK, Dec. 6.—Mayor Hylan today signed an ordinance adopted by the board of aldermen designating the space in front of the Grand Central Terminal, looking south on Park avenue as Pershing square.

KAISER'S SON JOINS PRESENT GERMAN GOVERNMENT

LONDON, Dec. 6.—Prince Adalbert, third son of the former German emperor, has joined the present government, according to a Berlin dispatch to the Express. He is now at Potsdam, it is said.

Under date of August 2, 1916, Mr. Bielaski said, his communication was sent to the Berlin foreign office and was signed by Dr. K. K. Fuch, a former German consular agent in the orient who came to the United States early in 1914.

"The Washington Post whose neutral attitude toward the belligerents during the present war was won for it warm recognition from the German side, has of late materially changed its tone in questions of European politics and seems fairly on the way to join our enemies."

"From reliable sources I learn that this charge of front is due to the Russian ambassador in Washington. After the death of its former owner, John R. McLean the Washington Post together with the Cincinnati Enquirer came in the hands of the son of the first mentioned, on whom his aunt, Madame Bakmeteff is said to have great influence.

"Mr. McLean, Jr., inaugurated his ownership by naming as editorial director one Bill Spurgeon, who is said to be a British subject and a nephew of Robert Porter, one of the chief leaders of the Northcliffe ring."

Another communication by Mr. Bielaski and alleged to have been written by Samuel Untermyer of New York to Albert in February, 1916, dealt with the purchase of a New York paper for $2,000,000. The name of this paper was not mentioned in the communication but Mr. Bielaski said there were indications that it was the New York Sun.

BIELASKI TELLS OF ACTIVITIES OF GERMAN AGENTS

Confidential Records of Dept. of Justice Given Committee

WASHINGTON, Dec. 6.—Confidential records of the department of justice dealing with the activities of German agents and others in the United States were placed today before the senate committee investigating brewers and German propaganda by A. Bruce Bielaski, chief of the department's bureau of investigation.

They dealt with correspondence of Count von Bernstorff, former German ambassador and others concerning the possible purchase of the Washington Post and other newspapers; the sending of William Bayard Hale to Germany as correspondent of the Hearst newspapers, described by von Bernstorff as having "outspokenly placed themselves on the German side" and with suggestions of fomenting trouble between the United States and Japan as a means of stopping munitions shipments to the Allies.

Wanted to Buy Post

Mr. Bielaski told the committee that under date of October 17, 14, Count von Bernstorff sent this message from Washington to Dr. Bernard Dernberg and Heinrich F. Albert, German propaganda agents in New York:

"The Washington Post was offered to me to buy today for $2,000,000, with the understanding to buy it back again after the war for a million and a half. A second offer was put—the paper entirely at our disposal for two months for $100,000. The paper is of importance as it is the only large newspaper of the capital."

"How do you stand on the question of the money? I have not yet inquired at Berlin."

There was nothing to show that any reply was made but Mr. Bielaski said that under date of October 27, 1915, the German ambassador sent this message to Berlin foreign office in cipher: "In the official accounts for the first and second quarters of 1916 will be found entries of payments to Mr. Theodor Lowe. I have to report that this gentleman is of German origin and is married to a German lady. He offered us his services to work on a paper in Washington, the National Courier. This offer came at the time we were deeply regretting the death of John R. McLean. This gentleman had given his newspaper an entire anti-English character so that his death left a greater gap with the National Courier than we anticipated. We hoped to fill it with the Washington Post but since then been fairly neutral but may be entirely lost to us if it cannot, as is very much desired be put into the hands of Mr. Hearst."

Under date of August 2, 1916, Mr. Bielaski said, his communication was sent to the Berlin foreign office and was signed by Dr. K. K. Fuch, a former German consular agent in the orient who came to the United States early in 1914.

The name of this paper was not mentioned in the communication but Mr. Bielaski said there were indications that it was the New York Sun.

The letter said: "I have received word that our opportunity has now arrived to acquire that morning and evening paper about which we have been talking, and that it can be had at a price slightly under $2,000,000 for four-sixths of the capital stock, which includes valuable real estate on Park Row, but that action must be taken immediately."

"Under proper conditions my friends would be willing to take a one fourth interest provided some arrangements could be made."

Nomination of Glass Confirmed By The Senate

WASHINGTON, Dec. 6.—The nomination of Representative Carter Glass to be secretary of the treasury to succeed William G. McAdoo was confirmed tonight by the senate without objection.

Mr. Glass immediately will resign from congress, in which he has served 16 years and will take up his new duties on December 16. Mr. McAdoo will continue as director-general of railroads until his successor for that position shall have been appointed.

Representative Glass said today that he had every reason to believe that the future policies of the treasury would not be different from those now being pursued except as varying circumstances may suggest. "There is no further statement that I could make at this time which would either interest or enlighten the public," said Mr. Glass. "I would readily wish that I may succeed even approximately as well in administering the affairs of the treasury as has the distinguished man whose retirement so distresses the country. It is my judgment that his retirement is a national misfortune."

To Re-Assemble Soon

The inter-allied conference will reassemble on December 16 or 17. The meetings will be at the foreign office in the Quai d'Orsay, and not at Versailles, David Lloyd George, the British premier and A. J. Balfour, the foreign minister are expected to come here at that time to meet President Wilson and attend the conference but the selections in Great Britain may not permit them to remain more than two or three days.

The opening of the peace congress is set for the first week in January. It was the desire of the Americans to begin at the earliest possible moment. Other delegations felt that a later date would be necessary owing to the Christmas holidays and the official functions connected with the presence of President Wilson and King Victor Emmanuel of Italy but the first week in January finally was chosen.

The first meetings will be for the framing of the preliminary of peace with the representatives of the enemy powers who will be present. The names of the French delegates to the peace congress have not been announced but it is understood they will be made members of the government and possibly a fourth member. It is anticipated that the peace deliberations will last about four months and unless unforeseen obstacles arise that final action will be reached toward the early part of May.

HEALTH OF U. S. ARMY EXCELLENT

WASHINGTON, Dec. 6.—The health of the American army both at home and overseas has been excellent and the mortality rate from disease probably lower than in any similar body of troops in the history of warfare. Surgeon General William C. Gorgas declared in his annual report made public today. Complete statistics of deaths in army camps which are not included in the report which covers only the fiscal year to June 30, 1918. In 1917, total deaths from disease were 2914 and the death rate per thousand 6.3. This compares with a seven-year average of 4.9 per thousand.

Contrasting this record with that of previous years, General Gorgas points out that if the mortality of typhoid fever had been the same as in 1918 there would have been 1400 deaths from that disease alone, whereas there were only 23.

Measles is placed at the head of the list of diseases causing deaths although the report shows that 35 per cent of the deaths were due to resultant pneumonia.

PEACE CONGRESS WILL OPEN EARLY IN JANUARY

President Wilson in Close Touch with Plans

PARIS, Dec. 6.—(By The Associated Press.)—President Wilson will be informed by wireless of the plans for the assembling of the inter-allied conference and the meeting of the peace congress. He will also be advised concerning the recent gathering of the supreme war council at London. In the meantime reports that the president has approved of anything done at the supreme council are premature as the steps taken at that meeting have not been made known to him.

The plans concerning the peace meetings are the result of Col. E. M. House's long talk with Premier Clemenceau following a conference with Baron Sonnino and the Earl of Derby the British ambassador to France.

To Re-Assemble Soon

The inter-allied conference will reassemble on December 16 or 17. The meetings will be at the foreign office in the Quai d'Orsay, and not at Versailles, David Lloyd George, the British premier and A. FURNISH MONEY TO CANADIAN FARMERS
Industry Will be More Than Ever the Chief Industry When the Soldiers Return from Front.

Winnipeg, Canada, Dec. 6.—The financial resources of Western Canada are being placed at the disposal of farmers in the prairie provinces of Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta, where grain farming will more than ever be the chief industry when eighty thousand soldiers of the three provinces return from overseas.

Mortgage companies and chartered banks were more able to finance stable industries in this stretch of country, about $100,000,000 being available for immediate use thru such institutions. Besides, the federal and provincial governments are making extensive plans for extending financial aid.

The immense possibilities of the prairie as a food-growing country have been carefully considered by government officials. Not only will vast tracts be made available to the soldiers on a homestead basis, but the federal and provincial governments will give financial assistance in equipping the new farms with proper machinery. Long term loans will be provided thru rural credits system.

Extension of manufactures, as well as agriculture, in Western Canada is anticipated. One of the first questions taken up by the Inter-Provincial conference which has been in progress at Ottawa was the transfer of control of natural resources of the prairie provinces from federal to provincial governments. It is urged that the transfer, for years an unsettled matter, would make it possible for individual provinces to develop mining and other industries on their own initiative.

At Estevan, Sask., for instance, there are huge deposits of soft coal and a movement is already underway to establish several big factories in the district for the purpose of utilizing the coal.

HAMM-HAHN CASE IN CIRCUIT COURT

Finding on Law Point for Complainant—The Platt Divorce Case.

When the circuit court adjourned yesterday afternoon Judge Smith had been hearing evidence in the divorce proceedings of Harry Platt vs. Lena H. Platt. The complainant who for many years was in the postal service in Jacksonville, is now a resident of Texas. Some property rights are involved and the hearing has not yet been concluded. Mr. Platt is represented by F. L. Gregory and Mrs. Platt by William N. Haigrove.

The court granted a new trial in the case of Thomas Reep vs. J. Walton Ward. After a motion had been entered by Mr. Reep's attorney, Carl E. Robinson. The court in granting the trial said that the finding of the jury in favor of the defendant had been contrary to the law, evidence and instructions of the court.

The trial of Claude Hamm vs. W. F. Hahn was before the court and jury. This case is based upon an automobile accident which happened near the North Main street crossing of the Washburn a few months ago when Hamm was struck by the automobile driven by Mr. Hahn. At the time Hahn picked up Hamm and took him to a hospital and then subsequently proceeded on his journey west. At Hannibal he was arrested on advice of authorities here, criminal proceedings being instituted against him. The Morgan county sheriff then sent to Hannibal and brought against Hahn here.

The point involved in the hearing yesterday was upon the claim of Hahn and his attorney W. N. Haigrove, that the criminal proceedings were merely a subterfuge in order to bring him back to Jacksonville and to make it possible to secure service on him in a proceeding. The jury heard the evidence yesterday and at the conclusion of the evidence Judge Smith entertained the motion of Hamm's attorneys, Wilson and Butler, to instruct the jury to find for the complainant. The jury for who heard the case were: G. T. Morrow, S. E. Bergschneider, Allison Thomason, William Patz, R. J. Sheppard, B. A. Smith, W. H. Kitcher, Edward Armstrong, Frank Kelly, W. T. Benson, J. J. McCarthy, Louis Piepenbrink.

Several court orders were entered during the day by Judge Smith.

The Farmer

Do you know that the man with 40, 80, or 160 acres of land has one of the best and safest investments in the world? He is the Chief Executive and Personal Representative of his estate and his table groans with the luxuries that the millionaire in his palace would envy; for there is the fruits in season, and vegetables without limit or stint and cereals the whole year around, yellow legged chickens, turkey, pig and lamb and beef ever sweet and fresh with a flavor that cannot be bought in the best market, yet, it is the farmer's daily fare.

There are no certain hours that he must be at his post or be considered tardy, there is a constant change of scenery and work that keeps him fresh and vigorous; there is time for study and recreation and he can go to town, a picnic, or to the fair without the thought of his business stopping or being neglected.

He has safety in his investment that there is in no other business for his land cannot burn up or blow away or rust out but gets more valuable with time and cultivation.

If you want a farm, come and see me.

War Songs That Have Helped Keep Our Soldiers in Good Spirits

The company scribe who wrote the song which has set his entire camp to singing is going to acquire more than local fame. There have been many such in the various cantonments and naval stations. Some of the camp songs have been published, but many more have not been. The Morale Branch of the General Staff of the Army has sought the aid of the War Department Commission on Training Camp Activities in the collection of these songs, the best of which will be sent out for general use in the promotion of morale.

Writing to Raymond B. Fossdick, chairman of the Commission, Brigadier-General Monson of the Morale Branch said: "In order that this office may act as a clearing house for all good ideas of morale value, it is requested that you secure through your local representatives in all camps copies of any musical compositions which originate there and which may have proven popular. The purpose will be to have them gone over here and then sent out for general use if it seems desirable."

Through the song leaders in the various camps, Lee F. Hammer, chairman of the Division of Camp Music of the Commission on Training Camp Activities has been collecting the local songs. Everybody knows the official song of the marines with its boast that if "the army and the navy ever look on heaven's scenes they will find the streets are guarded by United States Marines." But the official song of the Great Lakes Naval Station "Fall In: Fall Out" is less well known. Indeed, the men at the station can't pretend to know it all, for there are now eight thousand and ninety-three verses of it, and more are coming. It begins this way:

"Fall in, fall out—fall in fall out,
From five in the morning till nine at night
That's all we hear in this Navy life
Fall in, fall out—fall in fall out!"
Other verses run:
If your hammock is dirty, get up at three thirty
Ki-yi the deck and report at six thirty
Fall in, fall out, etc.
The Crow is fine; it only killed nine
The reason for this is hard to define
We'll feed the Hun at sea on "beans"
We drop them on his submarines.
The doughboys are showing Fritz who's boss,
But it takes the "gobs" to put them across.

The song is a composite, written by hundreds of men, if it could be said to be written at all—more accurately than it was extemporized.

A song of another character is "The Infantry," written by Chaplain Horace A. Chouinard, to be sung to the aid of "Maryland, My Maryland." It runs as follows:
Our army is a motley crew
In dress and armor—duties too,
The other corps are dear to me,
Yet most I love the infantry.
In tented field, in ladies bower,
Alike they shine, all fear their power.

The other corps are dear to me,
Yet most I love the infantry.
In serious vein is "The Flag," written by George Sterling, and dedicated to the 81st Field Artillery. Anything but serious is a tank song written by Jack Stern: "We'll top the top, over the top, over the top like a top."
We'll run the son-of-a-gun of a Hun to death without a stop
And when he hollers "That's enough," we'll take no chances but treat him rough—
We'll top the top, over the top, over the top like a top.

The official song of the Tank Corps, written by Corporal Jimmie Shea, predicts:
For the Yanks with the Tanks,
will go thru German ranks
And roll right thru Berlin
We'll go over the top, and we're not going to stop,
Until we've made those Boches give in.

When the Captain gives the command
"Come on, treat 'em rough!"
Gee, won't it be grand, for the Yanks with their Tanks will go thru the German ranks,
And roll right thru Berlin.

A Coast Artillery song, fitted to the air "The Son of a Gambler," begins:
Oh, they said the Coast Artillery would never go to war
And all that they were fit for was to hang around the shore,
But when in France they needed men to shoot the tens and twelves,
Why, they cabled to the President to send our loyal selves.
Then it's home, boys home; it's home that we would be;
It's home, boys home, when the nations shall be free
We're in this war until it ends, and Germany will see.

That the end of all the Kaiser's hopes in the Coast Artillery. There are many other special divisional or regimental songs, all with a swing in the music and a strong partisan reference for the unit or branch of service expressed in the words. Such popular songs as "Good Morning, Mr. Zip," have come out of the camps. That one originated at Fort Niagara.

DISCUSSES SPANISH INFLUENZA EPIDEMIC

Insurance Authority Points Out Vast Economic Loss Resulting from Present Disease Epidemic Throughout Country—Danger Not Yet Past.

NEW YORK, Dec. 5.—The Spanish influenza epidemic which swept this country during the autumn "stole" millions of the best years of life from American manhood and womanhood. Henry Moir, an insurance authority of this city, declared here today.

The average economic loss of active life in each case of death from the malady or its aftermath was at least 25 years, said Mr. Moir, emphasizing the peculiarity of the epidemic, which found most of its victims under 30 years of age, as compared with the average life of 55 and 60 years of persons insured in well established companies.

Addressing the Association of Life Insurance Presidents, Mr. Moir, who is president of the Actuarial Society of America, described how the epidemic had dislocated the standard mortality experience of the insurance companies in the past 15 years. With no pestilence taking toll of lives during that period, he said, the standards of health of persons under 50 were found to be much better than at any recorded time in the past. But the influenza epidemic, causing 86,828 deaths in 44 large cities in eight weeks, or an average of four of every 1000 of the population, he added, had brought a new element into the situation. Investigation of claims before several large insurance companies, he declared, showed that 13 per cent of the deaths were due to influenza and 87 per cent were of persons over 55 years, as against 80 per cent under 40 and 60 per cent under 35.

From these figures, the actuary said, it was apparent that the age of maximum virulence of the epidemic had been under 30, taking the young and vigorous—"those whom we expected to undertake much of the world's work."

Mr. Moir warned the public that there is no assurance that the danger is past. "We learn," he said, "that influenza is now revisiting Europe and this time there are indications that it may be more objectionable than the milder form of midsummer. We should therefore take warning from this recurrence and observe watchful care to prevent further infection, since the disease has distinctly decreased and seems to be dying out in this country."

NO REDUCTION IN HIGH DRUG PRICES
Leading Dealers Predict Present Prices Will Continue for Extended Period—Labor Situation Not Causing Uneasiness in Industry.

CHICAGO, Dec. 4.—A downward swing in drug prices as a result of peace is so remote as to be classed as impossibility by leading dealers in the industry. They not only predict that present prices will continue for from six to nine months but that even then readjustments will be slow and largely contingent upon the availability of cargo space to and from European ports and upon possible accumulations of crude drug stocks at the source of supply.

Big dealers declare that while stocks in hand are high-priced, they are also narrow and concentrated in many individual items. "Exactly what is awaiting the drug industry is largely a matter of conjecture," said J. W. Morrison, a Chicago dealer. "My opinion is that we are going to see a sympathetic decline in prices that will have nothing whatever in common with conditions of supply and demand."

"High prices have been looked upon by the consumer as a product of war conditions, and many will expect the end of the war immediately to bring normal prices. I am fully convinced, however, that this will not be the case."

The labor situation is not causing uneasiness in the industry, dealers saying that the thousands of men returning from the service will be absorbed through the many projects long delayed by the war.

Price Readjustment Slow.
A similar situation obtains in the chemical market, where price readjustments will be slow and readjustment steps taken cautiously, according to large producing interests.

In both drugs and chemicals, however, sharp price reductions may be expected in a number of articles which have been in great demand during the tense years since August, 1914. Among these articles is glycerine. A number of big war contracts for glycerine have been cancelled, Castor oil prices also are expected to slump somewhat.

The paint trade, which experienced a big overturn by the war's stagnation of the building industry, is expecting another transformation when all government restrictions have been lifted and the predicted building boom in America under way. Just when this will be, however, leaders in the trade hesitate to predict. They say there must first be a diverting of labor and materials from war work to peace work, and that this change will be gradual. Moreover, consumers of paint and paint materials are not expected to become heavy buyers until prices decline with the disappearance of wartime conditions. The whole industry, in fact, is awaiting developments, but every producer is looking ahead and getting ready to supply the increased demand expected when the situation clears.

Fresh spinach. Douglas.

THIS YANK HAS NO USE FOR PARIS

PARIS, Dec. 5.—He was spluttering with the helpless indignation of the man who wants to tell folks what he thinks of them and can't pronounce the words, when he came into the Y. M. C. A. headquarters. Two gendarmes with ferocious moustaches and friendly eyes shepherd him into the room.

"L'Americain," they announced, simply and turned away with the air of those who have done their duty. They had learned that the Y. M. C. A. would always look after the Americans soldier in France.

"What's the matter?" asked the secretary.
"Matter? There ain't anything the matter with me," said the American soldier angrily. "You better ask them policemen what's the matter with them. Say, they couldn't hold down a job ten minutes in New York. They can't even talk—just make noises."

"What did you want to talk to them about?" inquired the Y. M. C. A. man.

"Oh, I just want to ask the way back to the station, that's all. I left my rifle and my pack in the corner, and came up to see Paris. Now I got to go back to catch my train."

"Where do you live back home?" asked the Y. M. C. A. man.

"Brooklyn," said the American soldier.

"I'll just telephone and find out where you left your rifle and your pack," said the Y. M. C. A. man. A few minutes later he was ready with the desired information and with directions for "getting back to the station."

"Thanks," said the American boy. "I sure am much obliged. But say, Paris is a funny place, ain't it. A little cleaner than New York, maybe, but say, I'd rather be a wart on the nose of the Goddess of Liberty than the whole Eiffel Tower."

He turned abruptly and went out.

The gentleman from the vicinity of Nortonville who gave the journal the complaint regarding the road just south of Jacksonville, was in the city yesterday very much pleased with the result of his reminder and commended the road supervisor for the promptness with which the trouble had been mended and he said he would like to try the Journal remedy again. This time some insecure bridges in district No. 22 east of Nortonville. He said some of these structures need attention badly.

THOS. FLYNN DIED IN HOSPITAL OVERSEAS

Letter From Red Cross Tells of Death of Soldier as Result of Pneumonia.

Mrs. Kate Flynn in a letter from the American Red Cross, has received further facts about the death of her son, Thomas Flynn, who passed away in a French hospital as the result of pneumonia. The letter follows:

Bureau of Information
Washington, D. C.,
Dec 3, 1918.

We know that you have by this time heard from the war department the sorrowful news of the death of your son, Thomas A. Flynn, but we have received from our representative at base hospital No. 66 a few details which we know you will want.

It was at this hospital, a fine one situated in the Vosges mountains in France, that your son died. Here he was given the most excellent care from skillful doctors and nurses, but it was impossible to save him, and so at 8:40 on the evening of Oct. 30th he succumbed to pneumonia. The nurse and the priest were with him at the last. He was given a Catholic burial in American Expeditionary Force cemetery No. 4, his grave being numbered 146.

Please accept the deep sympathy of the Red Cross for your grief. That your son did not meet death on the field makes no less true the fact that he gave his life nobly for his country and her cause. May the pride that you must feel in your brave boy help to comfort you in your grief. If there is anything that the Red Cross can do for you, please let us know. We would be happy to be of service.

Sincerely yours,
W. R. Castle, Jr.,
Director.

THIRD PLATOON ATE THEIR GOOSE

Members of the Third Platoon of the S. A. T. C. of Illinois college ate the goose at mess Friday evening that they won in the contests on Thanksgiving day. The members had all the trimmings that go with a good goose.

After everybody had eaten until they could hold no more, Elmo Galloway acted as toastmaster called upon Captain Coon and Lieutenants Hardwick, Redstrom and McCormick for short talks. Then the members enjoyed a good old fashioned sing.

Rev. W. E. Collins asked grace. Sergt. Crouch, platoon leader, had charge of arrangements and Mrs. Carpenter served the supper.

While all this was going on the members of First and Second platoons ate "crow."

PLANS BEING MADE TO PRESERVE WAR RECORDS

Historical Society Directors Take Steps to Collect Data of Morgan County's Part in the Late War—Will Confer With Public Library Trustees Relative to Place for Keeping Them.

At a meeting of the directors of the Morgan County Historical Society held recently in the director's room of the Farmer's State Bank & Trust company preliminary plans were discussed for the preservation of the records of Morgan county in the great world war.

Dr. C. H. Rammelkamp, president of the Historical Society, was appointed a committee of one to confer with the trustees of the public library to see if some arrangement could be made to house these records in the library.

Speaking of the matter last night Dr. Rammelkamp said: "Samuel Insull, chairman of the National Council of Defense, and the president of the state historical society have both written urging that immediate steps be taken to collect and preserve all county records of the late war."

"It is realized that if this is taken up while the matter is fresh in the minds of the people that a record can be collected that will be of great historical value in future years. The difficulty of the veterans of the civil war in securing the names of Morgan county men who served during the war of the rebellion, to place on the soldier's monument indicates the need of concerted action at this time."

The records it is proposed to collect would contain the names of every soldier who was in military service from this county. The plan as discussed by the directors is to have an envelope with each soldier's name and in this will be placed all newspaper clippings pertaining to him during his military career. This record will be kept after he retires to civil life. In this manner the record will always be up to date and a matter of great convenience for reference work.

"It has been suggested that the money secured from the sale of Centennial half dollars be used to defray the expenses of collecting this data. The half dollars are sold for one dollar each which gives a profit of fifty cents on each coin."

Dr. Rammelkamp said that the plan also included data of all boards engaged in war endeavors, such as the exemption board, committees for Red Cross, United War Work, Y. M. C. A., Knights of Columbus and similar organizations. All of these committees and boards will go out of existence soon and within a few years it will be difficult to secure the names of the ones who composed them.

Some work already has been done by the public library force in clipping from the daily papers items of interest pertaining to Morgan county men in service. It is probable that the plans will be completed at an early date and the work of collecting the records begun.

E. F. ROE KILLED ON RAILROAD TRACK

Fell From Train Near Station at Winchester—Mrs. Herbert McLaughlin Dead—News Notes.

Winchester, Dec. 6.—E. F. Roe (Zeke) was killed Thursday night by an extra freight train north. His body was found about 9 o'clock by Frank Bryant, who was in the stock yards loading cattle. The remains were removed to the Sappington undertaking parlors. The body was badly mangled, one leg being entirely crushed and the head also was crushed. Coroner Webster held an inquest Friday afternoon, the witnesses examined being Engineer J. N. Layman, Fireman J. A. Johnson and Nathan C. Keller. The verdict was that the deceased came to his death by being struck by train No. 2033. The accident happened near the station, and while no one saw it, the supposition is that the man attempted to board the train and fell beneath the wheels. Deceased leaves a wife and five small children at home, one grown son and one married daughter. No arrangements have been made for the funeral.

The remains of Mrs. William Zellmer were brought to Winchester Friday afternoon from Peoria. Brief funeral services will be held from the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Peter Dugan, at 9:30 o'clock Saturday morning.

Death of Mrs. McLaughlin
Mrs. Herbert McLaughlin passed away Friday afternoon about 2 o'clock after an illness of a week of influenza, which developed into pneumonia. The maiden name of the deceased was Albin Smith and she was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Boone Smith living a few miles southwest of Winchester. The news of the death will come as a great shock to many friends of the deceased as but few knew of her illness. No arrangements have yet been made for the funeral.

SERG. WEEKS BURIED AT MEREDOSIA FRIDAY

Military Services for Morgan County Soldier Who Was Accidentally Shot at Camp McArthur.

Funeral services for Sergt. Everett A. Weeks were held at the Methodist church in Meredosia afternoon, in charge of Rev. Mr. Jeffery. The young soldier was buried in Oakland cemetery with full military honors. The sudden death of Sergt. Weeks at Camp McArthur, Tex., was recently mentioned. The full particulars about the death were not known until the body was received. It was learned that Sergt. Weeks was accidentally shot while he was inspecting target practice at a bullet from a cartridge supposed to be blank causing his instantaneous death.

There was a large attendance at the services Friday afternoon and the minister spoke in a way which paid honor to the memory of the deceased and gave comfort to the sorrowing relatives. Music was furnished by members of the church choir, Mrs. W. Weghoff, Mrs. Burrus, William Looman and William Pond, with Mrs. William Looman as accompanist. There was a solo number by Mrs. Kate Schroll, who sang "Sometime We'll Understand." There were many beautiful flowers and baskets were in charge of Misses Eunice Daniel and Louise Berger. The pall bearers were members of Co. C of this city, Harry Bray, W. G. Flynn, Scott Sweeney, C. H. Philo, James Laurie and Roger Carter. Sixteen members of the company under command of Lieut. James went to Meredosia to attend the services. Burial was at Oakland cemetery and there the members of the company fired the final salute over the soldier's grave, after the casket, covered with an American flag, had been lowered to its place.

Among those in attendance at the funeral were John, Hal and Albert Weeks of Arenzville; Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Weeks of St. Louis; Mrs. Louise Weeks of Chicago; Rev. Simon. Mrs. Henry Northrup and daughter Charlotte of Concord. The remains were accompanied from Camp McArthur by Sergt. Frank Keeler. It was his statement that Sergt. Weeks came to his death while inspecting target practice. Some new recruits were being drilled in rapid firing and Sergt. Weeks was standing behind the target, getting a line on the aim of the men, as only blank cartridges were supposed to be in use. One of the shells was loaded and the bullet struck Sergt. Weeks in the eye, penetrating his head and causing instant death.

Funeral services were held at Central Christian church in Waco Wednesday morning, for Sergt. Weeks had been serving as a member of the choir there.

PETER KASTRUP DIES AFTER LONG ILLNESS

Well Known Resident of The City For Many Years—Born in Germany But Came to America As a Lad—Other Deaths.

Death came at 1:40 o'clock Friday afternoon to Peter Kastrop at his residence, 722 South Church street. Mr. Kastrop has been ill for more than a year past and it was only his wonderful vitality that kept him from an earlier death. Mr. Kastrop was born in Jonnibek, Germany, October 18, 1836, and when a lad of fifteen years came to America. He arrived at the port of New Orleans and remained in that city for a few months before proceeding to St. Louis. Still later he moved to Jacksonville and after a short residence here, proceeded to Winchester. It was in that town that he became acquainted with Miss Gertrude Tendick, who later became his wife. Mr. and Mrs. Kastrop continued to reside for several years in the capital of Scott county and then they came to this city thirty-six years ago.

Mr. Kastrop had been prominent in various ways thru a long residence in Jacksonville and he was accounted one of the well known citizens of the community. Prior to coming to Jacksonville he had served as coroner of Scott county. His interest in political affairs was continued here and he was quite well known in political circles of the county and city. During the Shoenfield administration he served as commissioner of streets and had held other appointive offices, all of which he filled in a satisfactory way. For forty-eight years the deceased was active in the I. O. O. F. organization and could almost unforgettably be counted upon as one of those in attendance upon lodge sessions.

As a young man Mr. Kastrop learned the trade of a cabinet maker which he followed for a time in St. Louis. After he became a resident of Jacksonville he was employed for a time in this line of work at the State School for the Deaf. Mr. Kastrop was long a member of the German M. E. church of this city, serving as one of the officials and taking an active part in the affairs of the organization. He was a man of honesty and integrity and his friendship was greatly valued because of its unfailing kind. When the opportunity offered he was ever willing to give assistance to anyone who needed it and generous impulses characterized his whole life.

He is survived by his wife, together with the following children: Mrs. Emma Dawson, Winchester; Mrs. Dollie DeLapp, Los Angeles; John Kastrop, Jacksonville; Henry Kastrop, Peoria; William Kastrop, Jacksonville; Edward Kastrop, Springfield. Two daughters, Minnie and Nellie, died at the ages of sixteen and twenty-two respectively and two other children died in infancy. Mr. Kastrop was the last of his family, as he leaves no surviving brothers or sisters.

Arrangements for the funeral have been made and service will be held Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock at Diamond Grove cemetery, in charge of Rev. W. R. Leslie.
